Farmers here Urged To Plant or Release Cotton Acreage Allotted

Failure To Comply With The Law Will Cost Coffee Farmers

Seven business firms are sponsoring an advertisement this week and next week urging farmers of this area to plant or release their 1962 cotton acreage in order to keep our cotton allotment.

This message, directly to farmers, states that if they did not plant or release their cotton acreage in 1962 or in 1961, the law requires that some cotton be planted in 1962 or the county will lose this allotment.

The deadline for releasing acreage or requesting additional acreage is March 15 thru the County ASC office. Farmers who do not plan to plant their cotton acreage are urged to give their neighbors an opportunity to plant it.

Farmers will have the opportunity of harvesting their entire crop mechanically. The County ASC will be able to give farmers information on how to prepare, plant and control weeds for mechanical harvesting.

Interested business firms who are interested in the future of this area as well as the progress of Coffee County are:

Elba Exchange Bank, Morrow Gin & Peanut Company, Taylor Seed and Feed Company, Sawyer Candy Company, C. O. Miller & Sons, Elba Milling Company, and the Elba Chamber of Commerce.

These business firms have formally demonstrated their interest in the future of this area.

"This will provide additional power to meet growing needs of our members, help make our Cooperative more secure, and provide a great boost to the economy of our state," he declared.

Bryant pointed out that Alabama Electric Cooperative was organized originally because electric cooperatives were unable to obtain wholesale power under reasonable terms and conditions when the rural electrification program first began.

Bryant emphasized that the expansion of Alabama Electric's facilities which has drawn intense opposition from Alabama Power Company, "is not a fight between Alabama Electric Cooperative and Alabama Power Company."

"On the contrary, it's a struggle between the people of Alabama and Alabama Power Company, and a struggle initiated by this company, which would like to secure a complete monopoly on the production of electricity in our state," he declared.

"The people generally have a big stake in this matter. The competition by example which Alabama Electric and its member systems provide is a vital factor in holding down power costs for everyone, regardless of by whom he is served," Bryant asserted.

He cited the "tremendous benefits" which electric cooperatives have brought to Alabama, pointing out that when the REA program began, less than four per cent of Alabama farms had electricity.

"Rural electric co-ops changed this dismal picture. Not only did they bring light out of darkness on the farms, but they also created a new market of several hundred million dollars for electrical equipment," he added.

Bryant also stressed that expansion of Alabama Electric's facilities would provide greater security for Covington Electric, and electric co-ops generally. "This is especially important in view of duplication of co-op facilities by Alabama Power Company in many areas, which places in jeopardy our ability to be able to continue to provide good service to our members, and repay our REA loans on schedule," he declared.

Under Alabama law, Alabama Electric's expansion program must be approved by the State Department of Finance. A petition for approval of the program has been filed with this agency, and hearings are expected to be conducted by the Finance Department in the near future.

Alabama Electric Expansion Termed Vital To Co - Ops

J. L. Bryant, President of Covington Electric Cooperative, today termed Alabama Electric Cooperative's $20 million expansion program "vital to Covington Electric, and to the future well being of rural electrification in Alabama."

"This will provide additional power to meet growing needs of our members, help make our Cooperative more secure, and provide a great boost to the economy of our state," he declared.

Bryant pointed out that Alabama Electric Cooperative was organized originally because electric cooperatives were unable to obtain wholesale power under reasonable terms and conditions when the rural electrification program first began.

Oops, We're Short On Space This Week

Because this newspaper has been so blessed with news items and articles, it has been necessary that the Rambler column be held back, as well as editorial features the past two weeks. It has also been necessary to cut or hold back interesting news articles because of space, most of which can still be used at a later date.

We do urge everyone to get their news stories to us early in the week and when possible during the weekend before.

This newspaper is grateful for the interest that has been demonstrated by the people of this area in getting the news they would like to see in the paper at the news office early. The editors especially appreciate this interest and regret that shortage of space requires that some has to be used in a later issue of the paper.

Wayne Hamm, who holds a position with security company in Montgomery, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lotue Hamm, last Thursday. He is a lifelong resident of Elba, a graduate of Elba High School, but now makes his home in Montgomery.

Capt Paul L. English Completes Course In Nuclear Weapons

Port Leavenworth, Kan. — Army Capt. Paul L. English, 33, son of Mrs. Allene P. English, of Elba, was graduated from the nuclear weapons employment course at The Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kan., Feb. 10.

During the four-week course Captain English was trained for duty as a nuclear weapons employment officer at general staff level.

The class, which consisted of 45 officers from the active Army, Army Reserve and Army National Guard, was addressed at graduation ceremonies by Brig. Gen. Harry J. Lemley, Jr., assistant commandant of the college.

Captain English is regularly assigned as an assistant operations and training officer with the 3rd Missile Battalion, 3rd Artillery, a Nike-Hercules Missile unit in Oakdale, Pa. He entered the Army in September, 1952.

The captain attended the University of Alabama.

Riveria Motel Sells

Harry Bullard has sold the Riviera Motel to the Lu-John Company, Inc. The Bullards have already given up the management of the motel and will move into one of the Bullard & Dee apartments this week.

Bullard built the motel which was completed in August, last year. They operated the motel six months before selling to Lu-John Company.

More details will probably be released for publication next week as to the new management and additions that are planned.

DATE CHANGED

The dates of the Cleveland Players, Troy Concert Association, which was scheduled to be presented March 12, has been changed to this next Tuesday night, March 6. Ticket holders for performances of the Troy Concert Association are to take note of this change of date.

Civil Defense Staff Holds Meeting Here Instructing Public

A meeting to acquaint the people of Coffee County with their respective and individual duties and responsibilities within the Civil Defense organization and structure was held in the Coffee County Court house, Elba, Tuesday, February 27. This was an all-day meeting, with registration beginning at 8:30 a. m., the meeting getting under way at 9 o'clock and continued until 4:30 p.m. with time out for lunch around noon.

This affair was one of a series of the State Civil Defense Dept. has scheduled over Alabama, designed to be helpful to the people of Coffee County and its municipalities. The speakers talking through possible nuclear wars and severe natural disasters, such as storms and floods, are constant, and every person should become familiar with what is being done, and what can be done for survival of the people of Coffee County.

Members of the staff of the Civil Defense Department were on hand to participate in the meeting and talked on various phases and subjects incorporated in the Civil Defense Program. These members are well informed on their respective subject, and emphasized the prevailing urgency for the county, and particularly Coffee County, to develop the first class operation of Civil Defense Organization.

His formal announcement appears in the "Political Announcement" column this week and he solicits the vote and influence of the people of Coffee County expressing his appreciation for the support of the voters.

Political Rally Will Be Planned At Meet Of Legion Tonight

The American Legion and Auxiliary will set the date for a political rally and barbecue at their regular monthly meeting this Thursday night, March 1, at 7:30 o'clock. Also to be planned is the Legion basketball schedule for the summer.

Commander Haywood Grimes and President Evelyn Reeves are happy to announce that the Legion and Auxiliary have exceeded the membership goal.

All members are urged to be present, especially new members. A supper will be served.

Enterprise Man Seeks Election For Sheriff Of Coffee County

G. W. (Red) Paschal Making his first bid for public office, G. W. (Red) Paschal of Enterprise has qualified for the office of Sheriff of Coffee County.

Paschal says he has received a lot of encouragement to run for the office of Coffee County Sheriff, many saying "It's time for a change." He says he feels that he is well qualified for the office and that he believes he can be of benefit to the sheriff's office.

Paschal has been associated with the public for thirty years and is known to be able to make a good decision during any difficult time. He promises to serve the county for new industrial and manufacturing expansion will depend largely upon our ability to adapt ourselves to changing economic conditions.

Folsom has scheduled a speaking tour of several counties in the northern part of the state next week. On Tuesday he will speak in Marion, Lamar, Fayette counties. Wednesday he will make two speeches in Lamar County and four in Pickens County. He will make one in Greene County Thursday, two in Sumpter and two in Marengo Counties. Friday he will be in Marengo, Perry, Hale and Bibb counties for five speeches.

Wallace drew added excitement when he leveled a blast at the long drawn out legislative sessions in Alabama and took aim at "the liquor agent setup in the state." He advocated a 30-day limit for the legislature as a means of stopping the useless raiding of the Alabama treasury by endless talkfest and wrangling. Regarding the "liquor setup," he said: "A system that pays off political cronies of a governor in liquor money is a disgrace."

Wallace has hammered away at those persons who would try to toss aside our Southern way of life. He has promised an all-out fight to preserve segregation in Alabama. He has also outlined a program to increase industrial development and bring more jobs, better roads and highways, and more help for old folks.

Paschal is a member of the First Methodist Church in Enterprise and a 32nd degree Mason, a Shriner and a member of the Order of the Eastern Star. He is a past Master of the Carmichael Masonic Lodge. He is also a member of the advisory board of the Enterprise Assembly of the Rainbow for girls.

Tigers Win 63-40 Over Kinston; Lose To Enterprise 53-45

The Elba Tigers led by the scoring and rebounding of Harold Hudson and Marion Holloway again defeated Kinston, this time on Kinston's home court, 63-41. The Tigers outscored Kinston in three out of four quarters.

Scoring for Elba was led by Harold Hudson with 24 points and Marion Holloway with 18 points. Waylon Jones with 14 points and Harold Rhoades with 13 points led Kinston's scoring.

Candidates For Governor Increasing Activities In Statewide Campaigns

Folsom Stages Rally At Haleyville On Sat., Mar. 3, 2 p.m.

FOLSOM says "Billions of words have been written and shouted about segregation; thousands of laws enacted; hundreds of Court decisions handed down. There has been untold numbers of bloody riots and lynchings. It is a historical fact that the only way to maintain segregation is to keep it out of Court. I have successfully pursued this course in the past. I will do so in the future."

Former Governor James E. Folsom has declared that Alabama's success in competing with other communities throughout the country for new industrial and manufacturing expansion will depend largely upon our ability to adapt ourselves to changing economic conditions.

Folsom has scheduled a speaking tour of several counties in the northern part of the state next week. On Tuesday he will speak in Marion, Lamar, Fayette counties. his home town, deGraftenried will open what he promises will be "The hardest hitting campaign that has ever been run in the history of this state." The twice-wounded veteran of World War II already has logged more miles campaigning through Alabama than any other candidate. In the last 120 days he has traveled 50,000 miles and made 175 speeches. With dynamic drive, deGraftenried declares that his campaign motto is "Let's go—that means let's go in Alabama, let's be up and about our business in Alabama and be active."

ATTORNEY GENERAL MACDONALD GALLION on education says: "The answer is, ADEQUATE FUNDS, PROPERLY EXPENDED." He said, "our children, the future custodians of our Republic, deserve and must have this and I pledge all my efforts to this end. It must be done, it will be done," he declared.

On segregation Gallion said, "Professional race agitators with Communist leaders are now at work fomenting trouble among our people. I intend to continue my all-out fight against these people and their organizations. He said integration comes NOT from stanch resistance, but from compromise. When we compromise with the integrationist, we are guilty of surrendering our heritage and our traditions on the installment plan."

READ PROVERBS 3:106; PSALM 25: 1-10

In all the ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy path. (Proverbs 3:6.)

Going home late one stormy, cold night, I was stopped at a railroad crossing by a freight train. As the great diesel rolled past, I could see a faint light in the control cabin. I knew that within that cabin were men who were alert every moment of the trip. Regardless of the night, they would direct that great train on its journey carrying merchandise of great value.

This reminds me that God is at the controls of our lives. He is ever watchful, always guiding, no matter how stormy the night, or how desolate the day. He will bring us through successfully. It is only when we think we know it all and think we can control our destinies that we get off the track. As the great train rolled on, it finally passed out of sight and hearing. I breathed a prayer. I prayed that I might always let God have complete control of my life; that He would be my personal God, and direct my path in Christlike living.

PRAYER

O God, help us this day to put Christ in complete control of our lives.

Thus when the day is ended, may we have the satisfaction of knowing that he is our personal guide. In His blessed name we pray. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
For successful living, we need to let God have control of our lives. (Paul K. Flowers (Indiana))

Q. What kind of business institutions—these Electric Co-ops?

A. They have brought light and power to Alabama farms and rural homes, schools and churches where there was no power or light before. They have made possible the decentralization of industry into rural areas. They have opened up a vast new market for all sorts of electrical goods and services.

Rural Electric is free enterprise at its best—good for all Alabama.

But wherever it shines . . . there are shadows. Wherever there are golden opportunities there are also somber tragedies. Some fail to grasp their blessings.

Ours is a nation which guarantees to every child the opportunity for religious training. Yet ours is a nation which smarts under the scourge of a moral disease — juvenile delinquency.

In blessing you with a son or daughter, God has entrusted to you a precious soul. You are required by law to give your child a secular education. But, despite the scourge of delinquency, a free nation must leave to your conscience the question of your child's moral and religious education.

God has blessed America. With a nearby Church ready and eager to provide Christian training for your child, and religious foundation for your family's life — the Sun shines bright. But there are shadows. You must decide!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a stronghold of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Please go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

1st Baptist Celebrate 25th Anniversary of B. W. C.

The 25th anniversary of the BWC of the First Baptist Church was celebrated Monday evening when members and guests met at Paul's Cafe.

A long banquet table covered with a white linen cloth, was decorated in the Valentine theme.

Brightened red hearts were used as place mats and the napkins were dotted with tiny red hearts. A heart-shaped floral arrangement was the table's central decoration.

Silver branched candelabras, holding red tapers, furnished a soft illumination as well as added beauty to the table.

Mrs. Cecil Prescott, president, acted as hostess. She expressed a welcome to Mrs. C. E. Dorsey, Sr., Mrs. E. M. Warr, and Mrs. Charles Graham, guests of the circle.

The organizational meeting was in the home of Mrs. Dorsey in 1937 and was conducted by Mrs. J. A. Timmerman, wife of the church's pastor at that time. Elba's circle has functioned effectively since its organization and has assisted in organizing BWC's in First Baptist Churches of Enterprise, New Brockton and Kinston.

Miss June Ray Jones conducted a Bible quiz and a flower and tree contest following the delicious turkey dinner.

Members present were: Miss Gladys Clark, Mrs. Colon Whitman, Mrs. Olan Bailey, Mrs. Robbie Russell, Mrs. Oscar Hyatt, Mrs. Oswald Dowling, Mrs. Wm. Bullard, Mrs. Jim Whitman, Mrs. G. P. Miles, Miss June Ray Jones, Mrs. Cecil Prescott, and Mrs. Olan Kendrick.

Guests were greeted at the door by the hostesses. After serving games directed by Mrs. Jerry Brown, the guests were invited into the dining room for refreshments. Mrs. Fleetwood Curley presided over the party and while the other hostesses served sandwiches and cakes.

All shared the honoree's joy as the opened her many useful gifts for the kitchen.

Guests present at the shower were: Miss Hayes, her mother, Mrs. Charles Hayes Jr., Mrs. Gordon Clark, mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. Loyd Crook, Mrs. Frances Parris, Mrs. Charles Hayes III, Mrs. Paul Windham, Miss Gladys Clark, Miss Gladys Clark, Mrs. Robert McKall, Miss Polly Clark, Mrs. Wayne Marler, Mrs. M. J. Lee, Mrs. John D. Smith, Mrs. Mace Crook and Mrs. Willard Martin.

Other Social Meets

Continuing a series of social functions honoring Miss Hayes, the luncheon at Grimes Restaurant in Troy Saturday, Feb. 24. Hostesses were Mrs. Roscoe Deal, Mrs. M. J. Lee, Mrs. Baxter Bryan, Mrs. Harold Deal and Mrs. Henry Dorsey.

The luncheon tables accentuated a color theme of pink and white. The center piece was a beautiful arrangement of pink carnations in a crystal bowl on a silver base. From the centerpiece pink streamers interwoven with pink carnations extended down the center of each table.

A delicious menu was served to the following: Miss Hayes, Mrs. Charles Hayes Jr., Mrs. Charles Hayes III, Mrs. Gordon Clark, Miss Polly Clark, Miss Gladys Clark, Mrs. Robert McKall, Mrs. Bryan Taylor, Miss Cathy Roberts, Miss Sandra Faris, Miss Olive Carley, Mrs. Paul Windham, Mrs. Charles

Kitchen Shower Held In Carnley Home For Miss Hayes

On Wednesday evening, February 21, Miss Suzanne Hayes, a popular bride-elect to be was honored with a kitchen shower at the home of Mrs. Fleetwood Curley. Other hostesses were Mrs. Jerry Brown, Mrs. Paul Morrow and Miss Olive Carley.

Flower arrangements of jonquils, daffodils and narcissuses were used throughout the house in keeping with Miss Hayes' selection of a yellow and white color scheme for her wedding.

The table in the dining room was covered with a hand-made lace cloth over yellow and was highlighted by a large crystal bowl set on a mirror surrounded by daffodils between layers of yellow and white ruffled net.

Silver trays of dainty sandwiches and appetizers were completed the table appointments. Nuts and mints were served from an antique silver epergne on the buffet.

"100 YEARS AGO"

After four days of battle and perhaps that many blunders, the Confederates surrendered to Union forces at Fort Donelson, Tennessee on February 15, 1862.

For the twelve mile move from Fort Donelson, General Ulysses S. Grant timed the Union army's arrival to coincide with the fleet's arrival. This, he felt, assured him of the cooperation needed for the attack. However, when the fleet did arrive it was quickly repulsed on February 14. Grant's discouragement was expressed in his statement, "The sun went down today, leaving
